

I am outraged at the Janet Jackson performance. I am glad my small cousins were not in the room. TV has turned into a pornography ring. MTV first aired the filth of Brittany Spears and Madonna kissing and now to go a step further they are showing nudity in a perverted fasion.

MTV is a making a mochery of the FCC by saying they did not know when they had been advertising the shocking performance before it happened. All involved should face penalties, fines, and give public appologizes. Some should loose their job over this.

Many families have now been exposed to something that they did not want in their home...not by choice, but by unethical sleeze tactics. I am very sad and will not watch any live broadcast with my family to ensure their viewing safety.

MTV should be banned forever! They are promoting filth.
